MR. DEPUTY CHAIRMAN: We will now take up the Wildlife (Protection) Amendment Bill, 2005.

WILD LIFE (PROTECTION) AMENDMENT BILL, 2005 - Contd.

SHRI S. P. M. SYED KHAN (Tamil Nadu): Mr. Deputy Chairman. Sir, as a firm believer in brevity, I am inclined to make a brief presentation on this Bill. While doing so, I am fully conscious that my presentation should not be a hindrance to the precious time of this august House on the one side and at the same time, it should not repeat and reiterate the points divulged and dilated by the earlier speakers who spoke on the Bill. However, I deem it as a matter of duty to place my views, observations and suggestions before this forum for consideration and appropriate action before passing the Bid. Coming to the issue, Sir, we are all aware that the project tiger to conserve and save tigers in forests was in existence for more than 30 years. But the problem of tiger conservation still persists even today warranting improvement and modification in our outlook and system particularly in terms of statutory, as well as, administrative back up. It is again a matter of fact that in the conservation of tigers and wild life, rights and activities of tribal people and local people living in and around tiger reserves are also concerned and needs to be addressed. Keeping these two aspects in mind, I appreciate that an attempt has been made to propose amendment to Wild Life (Protection) Act (9) 2, rightly envisaging to constitute National Tiger Conservation Authority (NTCA) to plan, prepare and perform tiger protection without affecting the needs and concerns of the local people. Without going into the list of powers and functions of the proposed National Tiger Conservation Authority (NTCA) as found in the Bill, I am inclined to concede that it has been proposed with laudable purpose. But my apprehension is whether the real purpose will be served In full. I have got my own doubt. I would like to ask the hon. Minister whether the powers and functions envisaged for the NTCA are exhaustive and comprehensive or only illustrative. If illustrative, will they take care of the whole ambit and purpose of the Bill? My next point is, whether the system in existence or the system conceived will be adequate to implement and serve the purpose. In case of inadequacy, I would like to ask whether the Government would be careful enough to supplement such deficiencies while framing rules and procedures in this context. In this connection, I could not resist from pointing out the dearth of coordination and coordination mechanism between the National Tiger Conservation Authority (NTCA) and
